

1984 Meeting of the Southeastern Association
for Behavior Analysis

November 15–November 17, 1984
Landmark Hotel, Myrtle Beach, SC

Thursday, November 15, 1984

6:00–10:00 p.m. Registration and social

Friday, November 16, 1984

- 8:30* Nonhuman Primates and the Experimental Analysis of Behavior
Chair: Larry D. Byrd, Yerkes Regional Primate Center
- "The Squirrel Monkey as a Model for Investigating Environmental Determinants of Behavior." Leonard L. Howell, Georgia Institute of Technology
- "Analysis of Memory Performance in Rhesus Monkeys." Ted W. Finlay, Georgia Institute of Technology
- "A Longitudinal Approach to Behavioral Studies of Aging in Chimpanzees." Mollie A. Bloomstrand, Georgia Institute of Technology
- "Studying Complex Performances in the Chimpanzee." Kathleen F. Melia, Georgia Institute of Technology
- 9:30 "A Behavioral Analysis of Psychophysical Disorders." Joel Greenspoon and James Olson, University of Texas of the Permian Basin, Odessa, Texas
- 10:30 Persistent Issues in The Experimental Analysis of Behavior.
Chair and general comments: Peter Harzem, Auburn University
- "Repeated Acquisition of Complex Response Sequences in Humans." David Lubin, Auburn University
- "Effects of Stimulus- and Component-Duration in Behavioral Contrast in Rats." Laverne Worthy, Auburn University
- "Frequency and Magnitude of Reinforcement on Concurrent Schedules: Analysis of Two Models." Jorge M. Oliveira-Castro, Auburn University, and Joao Claudio Todorov and Nelson Goncalves Gomez, University of Brazilia
- 11:30 "Developing Behavior Analysis in Florida: Progress Report on a 25-Year Plan." Jim Johnston, University of Florida, and Jon Bailey, Florida State University
- Break
- 1:30 O.B.M. in Business and Government Environments
Chair: Roger D. Bourdon, J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc.
- "Marketing Behavioral Technology in the Public Sector?" Tom Richter, Director, Southern Office, Council of State Governments and Executive Director, Southern Legislative Conference
- "Antecedents of Performance Assurance: A Planning Approach to Business Management." Roger Bourdon, Director, Human Resources Development, J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc.

- 2:30 "A Moment-to-Moment Account of an Instance of Novel Behavior in Human Subjects." Robert Epstein, Northeastern University and Cambridge Center for Behavioral Studies
- 3:30 Microwaves and Behavior
Chair: Jack Marr, Georgia Institute of Technology
- "The Effects of Microwaves on Schedule Performance." John deLorge, Naval Aerospace Medical Research Laboratory
- "Microwaves as a Reinforcer." Jack Marr, Georgia Institute of Technology
- 4:30 Applied Implications of Current Research in the Experimental Analysis of Behavior
Chair: Steven C. Hayes, University of North Carolina at Greensboro
Panel Members:
Steven C. Hayes, UNC-Greensboro
Jack Michael, Western Michigan University
Third panelist to be announced
- 5:30 Business meeting - Chair: Aaron Brownstein, UNC-Greensboro
"Greetings", Fred Keller
- 8:30-10:30 Posters and cash bar - Host: William Buskist, Auburn University
(A separate program available at registration will list posters.)

Saturday, November 17, 1984

- 9:00 "Programmed Instruction: Origins and Coming of Age." Julie Vargas, West Virginia University
- 10:00 "Programmed Instruction: Origins and Coming of Age" (continued). Ernest A. Vargas, West Virginia University
- 11:00 J. R. Kantor's Interbehaviorism: Theory and Application
Chair: Ralph Spiga, Auburn University, Montgomery
- "Understanding Behavior Analysis Through Interbehaviorism." Ralph Spiga, Auburn University, Montgomery
- "Discriminative Stimuli as Setting Events." Jim Fox and Bill Brown, Peabody College of Vanderbilt University
- "An Interbehavioral Perspective on Parent Training of Developmentally Delayed Children." Lynne Daurelle, Peabody College, Vanderbilt University

*Meetings will be held in Grand Strand 3. The poster session will be held in the Expo C Hall.